The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the land appropriated by Congress of the United States for use of schools in this county are practically all cut over pine lands, and whereas, these lands are and have been of very little or no benefit to the schools of this county and in their present state will be of no financial benefit to the school children or to education for generations to come, and

Whereas, it is practically impossible to get settled or locate buildings on these lands under a lease as it is the desire of all who improve lands to own the title in fee, and

Whereas, it is the opinion of this Board that if said lands were sold, the money invested for school purposes and the lands placed on the rolls subject to all taxes, they would serve a far better educational purpose for generations to come and for permanent development of the country than if permitted to remain as they are under the present system.

Therefore, Be it Resolved, by this

DANCE AT THE BAY-WAVELAND CLUB NEXT SATURDAY.

Dance Last Saturday Night and on Evening of Tuesday, the Fourth, were both Social Successes—Large Attendance and Pleasures of Participation Marked Features.

The devotees of Terpsichore, and they seem to grow in larger numbers all the time, including the young and the younger, since there are no more old people, enjoyed themselves immensely last Saturday night regular dance night, and Tuesday night in celebration of the Fourth of July. The Saturday night dance was largely attended and with a regular jazz band in attendance and every element propitious towards making the affair a success it could not have been otherwise.

Tuesday night's affair, celebrating the Fourth, was well attended. Burt Sigerson's orchestra, with Prof. Hammersbach at the piano, gave a new and added attraction to the Bay-Waveland dances. For the occasion the club house interior was beautifully decorated. No one knew that Secretary Geo. J. Toca was a decorator par excellence—neither did we—but the secret leaked out on the night of the 4th. The hall was handsomely "done up" with the tri-colors and American flags used in most singularly and effective fashion.

Next Saturday night, Regatta event, the night of all fights for the club, there will be added decorations and a compelling band insisting on your feet "picking cherries" will be there. There will be many visitors, from New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola and from along the Gulf Coast. It will be well to get your invitations from Secretary Toca in advance. There will be no charge for ladies, accompanied by member; a non-resident, upon application of member, can secure invitation at 50 cents each.

The club house will be open all day and all visitors will be welcome.

WELL-KNOWN SUMMER RESIDENT DIES.

Well-Known Insurance Man at New Orleans—Popular Elk—Dies After Weeks of Illness—Deceased Was Mississippian and Son of Confederate Officer.

The foregoing death notice, which appeared in Wednesday morning's Times-Picayune, will be read in Bay St. Louis with much sorrow. Mr. Kitchen was a summer resident here for many years, a good "mixer" and consequently well known and popular. The Kitchen family generally resided in the Grignon "Belle View" villa, and this year had rented the Caren place, near by, but was unable to reach here on account of illness.

Mr. Kitchen was an ardent booster for Bay St. Louis. He loved the place dearly. He was a brother of J. D. Kitchen, lately deceased, who resided on the beach near "Elmwood."

The Echo regrets to note the death of this princely gentleman. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him. The New Orleans Times-Picayune contained the following sketch of the deceased, accompanied by a portrait of the subject:

"William H. Kitchen, well-known insurance man, died yesterday after an illness of several weeks. The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence, 64 N. Orleans Place, the Rev. Matthew Brewster officiating. Interment will be made in Metairie Cemetery."

"Mr. Kitchen was born in Columbus, Miss.; July 20, 1864, while his father was on duty there as a Confederate soldier. In 1867 the family moved to Jefferson, Texas, where he was reared, and where he married Miss Effie Lee Sale, who survives him."

"Shortly after his removal to New Orleans in 1898 he became associated with his brother, J. D. Kitchen, in the insurance business, in which he remained active and successful until his last illness. Other survivors are his daughter, Mrs. J. O. Bechel, and his grandson, William Kitchen Ceek."

Board of Supervisors of Hancock County. That the Congress of the United States be memorialized to pass the bill, a copy of which is hereto attached, or such other legislation as will permit the sale of these lands by the Board of Supervisors of the various counties, and that the funds derived therefrom be spent for the benefit of the schools of the respective townships.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to our senators and congressmen.

Ordered and passed in open Board, this 3rd day of July, 1922.

WRIGLEY'S ANSWER.

William Wrigley, Jr., the chewing gum magnate, was talking to a little party of men in a smoking car the other day and telling how much chicle is used each year for chewing gum. "But, Mr. Wrigley," said one of his hearers, "you've spent millions of dollars and created a splendid demand now; everybody talks about and chews Spearmint; your demand is steady and growing; isn't it a waste to spend so many thousands of dollars advertising a product that is already so well known?"

And Mr. Wrigley, studying a moment, answered:

"My friend, if I were to stop advertising, it would be just like taking the engine off of the train. It would slow down, and after a little while it would stop. Advertising is the locomotive of business and if you don't keep it up business comes to a stop."

A PALM DRIVE.

While conversing recently with a gentleman in New Orleans, he informed the writer that he had spent a few days over in Bay St. Louis, and had certainly enjoyed driving about on the many good roads, and was agreeably surprised at the great amount of pleasure he experienced therefrom. One of the roads he mentioned was Dunbar avenue, and the possibilities for enchantment of this beautiful driveway.

These possibilities seemed to concentrate in the writer's mind and he visualized it in a mind picture which has fastened itself indelibly:

Convert Dunbar avenue into a beautiful Palm Driveway extending from Main street to the shores of the Bay near the mouth of Jordan river. Make it a thing of beauty and it will last forever.

The property owners along the avenue should eagerly co-operate with the city in the furtherment of such a plan, for it would greatly appreciate the value of all the property and be an incentive for its colonization. People are beginning to realize that the beach driveway has been taken up until there's hardly any available to the new homeseeker, and those who desire homes must needs settle on some back street. With a beautiful driveway bordered with stately palms becoming to the new-comer, it would not be long before pretty homes would spring up and the popularity of the drive equal if not surpass the beach drive.

Another thing must be taken into consideration: Dunbar avenue is cooler than the beach and does not suffer from the dampness caused by fogs, and it can be made dust proof.

Why not get busy on this and have something unique on this lovely coast, that will DRAW the people?

WORKING HOURS.

We don't like the constant effort on the part of labor movements to seek five-day weeks and six-hour days. In the first place, this is too short a time to get much accomplished. Nobody gets anything done without working hard and long at it. We have always felt, and we believe most people will agree with us, that working five days a week and loafing two days is a wrong proportion. It engenders too much laxity, and we see how a man working under such a program goes back to work, half-forgetting about the kind of job he had, and having to bring himself down to work again like he does after a vacation.

We believe it takes at least six days a week for a man to handle any job well, and how a man can put in a day in six hours we never could understand. Eight hours' work forms a proper division of the day, but even eight hours fit by very quickly to the person who is actually and vitally concerned about his work. So we believe that all workers should work full time to get the most out of it for themselves and for the ones for whom they are working.

Nobody works for himself. He is working for other folks. And unless a person is interested and doing service over a good many hours a day for at least six days a week, he can hardly expect to render enough service to the other people for them to pay him very well. Personally, we think the movement for a five-day week and a six-hour day is all bunk, and we can't see any merit in it either for the workers or the world in general.

IT CAN'T BE DONE.

We had to smile the other day when we heard a Bay St. Louis man who ought to know better contending that he would get along all right if people would let him "do as he pleased." It struck us as being funny, because in this country no one is permitted to do exactly as he pleases, and they never will be allowed to. In the first place, it would not be a wise thing either for the man or the rest of us.

Shortly after hearing his remark we read where a man and his wife had decided to show that they could live without the rest of their fellow-men, and without the things produced by others. They decided to go far into the wilds of the Maine woods, and live a primitive life, just as Adam and Eve lived. They figured on two things—doing as they pleased and beating the high cost of living. So into the woods they went, garbed as Nature garbed them, and without camp equipment or food. They fashioned rude clothing of leaves and grass, and with bows and arrows made with their own hands they killed game and ate it.

And then a game warden, scouring the Maine woods, came upon them. He took them to the nearest magistrate, where they were fined for hunting without a license, for fishing without a license and for killing quail and a deer in the closed season. Their fines amounted to $354.

They didn't prove what they started out to prove, but they did prove that which we are contending—that it is not always best for a man to be permitted to do as he pleases, and neither is it good judgment to think you can beat the present cost of living.

HOW HE'LL SPEND IT.

Many Bay St. Louis people have at times imagined what they would do with a million dollars, or even a half-million, if they should suddenly come into possession of so much wealth. John Lindley, cook for 39 years at the Beckham Hotel in Texas, is soon to become owner of a half-million dollars for a piece of land somebody worked off on him during slavery days, on which oil has been found. This is what John is planning to do with the money: First, there is a second-hand Ford truck he has had his eye on for some time. He will buy it. Then he is going to fix up his house, buy a new screen door, as the old one is warped, put on some fresh paint and otherwise fix up the premises. Finally, John, in the bigness of his heart, is going to take care of all the kitchen help at the hotel that need a friend. It isn't often that a sensible man gets hold of a half-million.

A BILLION-DOLLAR GARDEN.

We count wheat and cotton as the principal crops, and yet, in 1921, they both together were barely equal in value to the vegetables grown on farms in the United States. If we add the truck grown on city and town lots to the "garden sassa" grown on farms we find a total just about equal to that of the national corn crop. Not all of these vegetables were sold, of course, but perhaps as great a proportion of them as of the corn produced found their way to a direct cash market. So far as that is concerned, the poultry products for the last census year—1919—were more than a billion dollars in value, and the dairy products nearly a billion and a half. Residents of Bay St. Louis and Hancock county will find these figures interesting, because they show how extremely important the garden and the poultry yard are to all this nation, as well as to the rest of the world.

BAY ST. LOUIS AMUSEMENTS.

MRS. CASTLE AGAIN APPEARS ON THE SCREEN.

Makes First Public Appearance in Period of Two Years.

Mrs. Irene Castle, famous danseuse and actress, appears again on the silver sheet for the first time in more than two years, in the picture called "French Heels," which comes to the A. & G. Theatre next week for an engagement of one night, Monday night.

It is difficult to estimate in advance the welcome that local theatre patrons will accord this celebrated and popular artist. Suffice to say that the A. & G. Theatre will no doubt be crowded to capacity. In her first appearance in this city Mrs. Castle has always been favored with capacity audiences, whether appearing in person or on the screen, and it is safe to assume, therefore, that "French Heels" will draw record houses at each performance.

The story of "French Heels" introduces Mrs. Castle in a series of whirlwind events. She dances, rides, swims and wears a number of stunning wraps and gowns that will no doubt be the envy of every woman in town. The action of the story takes place in New York City and in the lumber camps of the far north. It is a modern story, written especially for the star, and is said to provide her with some of the best opportunities of her career.

"French Heels," which is a Hodkinson released picture, was directed by Edwin L. Hollywood, who for several years was production manager for Mary Pickford.

CONSTANCE BINNEY CHARMS AS SPIRITED IRISH HEROINE.

"Room and Board," a Delightful Romantic Comedy, With Many Interesting Settings.

Few pictures that have come to the screen in recent months have had more interesting and convincing local color than "Room and Board" starring Constance Binney, at the A. & G. Theatre Tuesday night.

This Realart picture is a story of Irish life, Miss Binney having the role of an impoverished noblewoman, and the scenes, whether in the heroine's ancestral castle or in the quaint Irish village, are charming and unusual even for this day or elaborate and expensive film settings. The Irish village, especially, is a real masterpiece of picture production.

The plot concerns the efforts of the orphaned Lady Noreen to save her home from creditors by leasing it to a wealthy American and posing as one of the servants herself, telling her tenant that the Lady Noreen is traveling in France.

has the device been used to advantage than in this spicy and wholesome Irish story.

Constance Binney as the dauntless, fun-loving, poor but always human Lady Noreen, is a delightful heroine, and Tom Corrigan makes a satisfactory hero. The rest of the cast is well chosen, and the numerous extras employed to add life and color to the village scenes are carefully selected and costumed, so that the atmosphere of the picture is as nearly perfect as could possibly be achieved.

"Room and Board" is a story by Charles E. Whitaker and was scenarized by Donnan Darrell. Allan Crossland directed the production, which is one of Miss Binney's most successful vehicles from every point of view.

Pearl White Coming in New Fox Picture.

The penalty which follows surrender, by a well-loved wife, to an unwarranted discontent with her lot as lacking in excitement, is said to be eloquently set forth in "Any Wife," a William Fox picture in which the popular Pearl White will come to the A. & G. Theatre on Wednesday.

The moral of the story, from the pen of Julia Tolson, is obvious; but the incidents attending its development are described as intensely dramatic and its conclusion—a happy one, by the way—involves not only a genuine surprise, but clever comedy.

In the earlier scenes Miss White appears in a couple of gowns which are said to be "stunning," and any one who has seen her richly dressed on the screen knows that she sets off such attire superbly.

The supporting company contains several actors well and favorably known.

The picture was directed by a man who has achieved an enviable reputation—Herbert Brenon.

Jackie Coogan in New Picture.

"Peck's Bad Boy," Jackie Coogan's latest screen starring vehicle, is coming to the A. & G. Theatre next week for an engagement of one night, Thursday next.

The production recently was given its premier presentation on Broadway, where it achieved a sensational success at the Strand Theatre. The reviews of the New York critics hail it as one of the best screen comedies of the year.

In "Peck's Bad Boy" Jackie is said to have even surpassed his notable achievement in Charlie Chaplin's "The Kid."

The story is adapted from the immensely popular books of the late Governor George Peck. The subtitles were written by Irvin S. Cobb, famous humorist.

Supporting Jackie in "Peck's Bad Boy" are Doris May, Wheeler Oakman, James Corrigan, Lillian Leigh-ton, Raymond Hatton, Charles Hatton and Baby Gloria Wood.

"Peck's Bad Boy" was produced by Irving Tesser with Sam Woods as the director. It is released by Associated First National Pictures, Inc.

BERT LYELL AS "PUG" WHO IS "ALMOST A GENTLEMAN."

Plays Highbrow Fighter in Bayard Veiller's Production of "The Right That Failed," a Prize Ring Romance.

Bert Lyell, star of "The Right That Failed," the Bayard Veiller production for Metro, which will be seen Friday night at the A. & G. Theatre, again has a role that demonstrates his versatility. This time he comes as a prize fighter of the high-brow school; one who, to quote Daisy Ashford, "is almost a gentleman, but not quite, but you could scarcely notice the difference, and it didn't matter any how."

"The Right That Failed" is an adaptation by Lenore Coffee, of J. P. Masquand's Saturday Evening Post story. It brings Mr. Lyell back to the light comedy vein in which he made his first big success as a Broadway star on the speaking stage, playing in "Mary's Ankle." But his first screen venture, "The Lone Wolf," found him cast in a role of dramatic force. Then came his memorable performance for Metro; the marm-hearted, volatile Italian in "Lombardi, Ltd.," the coolly cynical, brilliant lawyer in "The Right of Way," the romantic crook, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," the derelict British officer in "The Price of Redemption," the cayman engineer in "The Missing Lady," the A. E. F. veteran in "The Man Who," the Coney Island roughneck in "A Trip to Paradise," and the gentleman crook in "Alias Ladyfingers."

Mr. Lyell's versatility was founded on his long experience in stock companies. He started as a boy of sixteen with the old Columbia company in Newark, New Jersey; then played "stock" in Rochester, New Orleans, Honolulu, Troy, Los Angeles, Portland, Me., and Boston. He headed his own companies in San Francisco, Albany and New York. In San Francisco he also played as leading man for the Alcazar Company, which includes Marjorie Rambeau and Bessie Barriscale.

He was born in New York and raised in the atmosphere of the playhouse. His parents were both actors; his grandfather, J. K. Daly, was one of Augustin Daly's.

He is the device been used to advantage than in this spicy and wholesome Irish story.

SUPERSTITION AN AID TO DETECTION OF CRIMINALS.

Theory is Admirably Demonstrated by Betty Compson in "The Law and the Woman."

Because a woman, guilty of a capital crime, was superstitious—to the extent that breaking her mirror fore-shadowed doom for her—she was finally forced to confess at the eleventh hour and save the life of a man convicted of murder, though innocent.

Such is the central plot of "The Law and the Woman," a new Paramount picture, starring Betty Compson, to be seen at the A. & G. Theatre on Saturday next.

It is by no means of this idea—playing upon the superstition of the guilty woman—that Miss Compson, in the role of the faithful wife of the accused man, succeeds in obtaining a confession from a vampire, whom she confronts with the gruesome reminders of her crime. The picture shows the danger of circumstantial evidence in homicidal cases.

No stronger play has been produced than this. William T. Carleton plays opposite the star and heads an unusually strong supporting cast.

CHANCELLOR GRIFFITH TAKES STAND AGAINST DIVORCE EVIL.

Chancellor Griffith took a very strong stand against the divorce evil on the opening day of the chancery court of Harrison county. For the first time in the State he instituted the innovation of submitting a percentage of the non-contested divorce cases to a master in chancery for investigation, with instructions to report his finding at a later day of the present term. The chancellor holds that when the number of divorce cases between terms of court equal 25 per cent of the total number of marriages during the same period, there is good grounds upon which to base investigation. The contested divorce cases will be heard as usual. The position of the chancellor caused considerable comment both pro and con, and the result is awaited with much interest by all affected.

HARD-SURFACE ROADS SHOULD BE AT LEAST 18 FEET WIDE.

A minimum width of 18 feet for by the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. The maximum width of a truck body generally permitted is 8 feet, and 5 1/2 feet is the ordinary clearance width of automobiles. At an average speed of 30 miles an hour it is unreasonable to expect the driver of an automobile to drive with the wheels closed than 1 1/2 feet to the edge of the pavement, says the bureau. For trucks at an average speed of 15 miles an hour, this distance should not be less than 1 3/4 feet on account of the great width of the rear wheel. Three feet seems to be a minimum safe clearance between bodies. Inasmuch as a certain amount of truck traffic is to be expected on all main country roads, the minimum width of surface should be 18 feet to provide these clearances when an automobile meets a truck.

Where the frequency with which trucks pass each other becomes a big factor, as in the neighborhood of large cities, the minimum width of pavement should be 20 feet to provide a clearance of 3 1/2 feet and a safe distance of wheels from edge of paved-hard-surface roads is recommended.

GOOD ROADS APPROPRIATION.

Congress Authorizes Distribution of $190,000,000 Among States for Construction of Highways—Mississippi to Receive About $3,000,000.

It is very gratifying to those people interested in good roads to learn that Congress has recently passed the new federal aid appropriation bill, authorizing the distribution among the States of $190,000,000 to be used in the construction of highways. This appropriation is to cover the next three years, $50,000,000 being authorized for 1923, $65,000,000 for 1924 and $75,000,000 for 1925. In addition, $6,500,000 was authorized for forest roads, for each of the years 1923 and 1924.

Of this appropriation, Mississippi will receive about $3,000,000, which will go a long way towards the completion of the State highway system, which is under construction by the State Highway Department. The appropriation is made under the provisions of the federal aid act of 1916, as amended in 1919 and 1921, which requires that expenditures be made on highways composing the 7 per cent system of roads, which system will be maintained by the State Highway Department. It also requires that this system consist of inter-state and inter-county roads. In requiring this, the government is working towards the construction and maintenance of a highway system which will not only connect every county seat within the States, but throughout the United States.

The Mississippi Highway Department is, however, confronted by the constitutional provision giving the boards of supervisors full control of all roads, ferries and bridges, which gives it no authority to take federal aid roads for maintenance as required. The last Legislature, seeing the necessity for a change in this, submitted to popular ballot a constitutional amendment, which will give the State the authority to take over for maintenance those roads designated as State highways, which roads are not to consist of over 7 per cent of the mileage in the State. Under the federal act, any State not giving the Highway Department this authority within three years after the passage of this act will cease to participate in federal allotments.

The only change made by the recent enactment was in the appropriation per mile, which cannot exceed $16,250 for 1923 and $15,000 thereafter, the limit having been formerly $20,000. The authorization of these funds three years in advance will be of great benefit to all the States, since it does away with the uncertainty as to future federal aid, which has heretofore proved a serious hindrance to the highway departments in the laying of their plans for the future. It is estimated that the appropriation will result in the construction of more than 25,000 miles of roads, which, added to the previous mileage, will complete about 40 per cent of the proposed National Highway System.

Too many men seem to think that the tree of liberty is a good place for them to feather their own nest.

Northern Assurance Company, Ltd., in the name of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Miss., covering $800,000 on the M. E. Ansley dwelling on Nicholson avenue, for the years, to October 7, 1922.

All of which is respectfully submitted. SAM C. LADNER.

MAN, 85, FACES RACE TO CONTINUE MAYOR.

Determination Unshaken As Banker Announces at Natchez.

Natchez, Miss., June 30.—The announcement of L. A. Whittington, attorney and banker of Natchez, for the office of mayor on the eve of the expiration of the limit for entries in the city primary has aroused interest in politics here, as it had been declared up to the last moment that W. C. Benbrook, 85 years old, mayor for thirty-four years, twenty years without opposition, would have a contest.

Following the announcement of Mr. Whittington a statement was issued by Mayor Benbrook, in which he said:

"I am in the race to stay and if the men and women of Natchez see fit to retire me they must express their wish by their votes at the polls."

Another last-minute announcement was that of Miss Nannie Mae Blythe for the office of city clerk.

All of the present municipal office holders have opposition, a condition that has not existed in many years. The city primary will take place August 1.

CITY ECHOES.

—Mr. H. Val Yates, assistant cashier of the Merchants' Bank, left during the week for his home at Maccon, Miss., and will spend a week's vacation.

—As chairman of the Regatta Club the palm goes to Louis H. Burns. He will have a large share in the big success the Bay-Waveland regatta will prove next Saturday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Max Kohler, whose beautiful and new home on the beach front is admired by all passers-by, have had as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schwartz.

—Miss Lurline Forsythe, who has been the guest of Mrs. W. F. Forwood, returned to her home at Enterprise, Miss., a few days since, after a most enjoyable visit.

—Mrs. W. W. Forwood's sister-in-law, Mrs. (Dr. D. S. Brosnan, and two children and mother, Mrs. Brosnan, from New Orleans, are spending a few weeks at the beautiful new home in Uman avenue.

—Judge D. M. Graham, who is a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge, was in Bay St. Louis and other points in Hancock county this week. Judge Graham is popular in this county and his friends are predicting a large vote for him in this county.

Over one hundred young ladies, members of the Sodality Association of St. Alphonsus Church parish, New Orleans, La., spent last Sunday in Bay St. Louis, and were guests at St. Joseph's Convent. The ladies had a most enjoyable time and are planning to return.

—Her condition seeming to be more aggravated of late, Mrs. Philip J. Schieb was taken to the Sanitarium at Meridian, accompanied by Mr. Schieb and Mr. Jos. V. Bonemps. The many friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Schieb anticipate her early and permanent recovery.

—Mr. John A. Green, accompanied by Mrs. Green, returned home this week, after a stay of several weeks in New Orleans, where he underwent treatment to diagnose his illness and to watch special treatment, with the most gratifying result. The Echo is glad to note his success and that he will soon be himself again.

—Miss Helen Ritzkyk, of St. Louis, Mo., is the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. J. Ritzkyk, at their handsome summer home on the Beach front. Miss Ritzkyk is an accomplished and attractive young lady and although here a comparatively short time already has won many friends and admirers.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leonard and nephews have been spending the week at Los Angeles, Cal., and will next visit San Francisco. The party sends greetings and reports a splendid trip. At Yellowstone Park Mr. Leonard caught a fine string of fish. This made his trip complete. The party intends to be home about July 27th.

—Mrs. Jno. Osoinach and daughter, Miss Cleo, reached New Orleans Thursday morning on board the steamer Comus from New York City. They were with a party of young friends and visited all the principal points of interest East, on to Niagara and Canada. Mrs. Osoinach reached Bay St. Louis last night and reports an interesting and enjoyable trip.

—The management of the D. H. Holmes Store Association is in correspondence with the Bay Hotel, intending to spend Sunday week in our midst. There will be some three hundred members in the party making the trip to Bay St. Louis, and great plans are in progress in order that the excursion to the gem of the coast cities will be one of success and one that will prove ever memorable.

—Mr. N. Burg has had his dwelling in Union street considerably enhanced with the touch of the painter's brush, and the place adds considerably to the betterment of the neighborhood and the town. But the men must not get all the credit. It was Mrs. Burg who selected the beautiful shade and the combination of trimmings that harmonize so well and which give the job so pleasing and attractive aspect.

—The Board of Supervisors, on request by a petition of 65 members of the local National Guards, represented by Capt. Curtis K. Waller, captain, has granted the organization a monthly appropriation of $20, a total of $240 per annum, according to law, and to be used by the local military as they see fit and according to law. We applaud the Board for its liberality and proper spirit thus displayed and no one will voice in dissent against the move.

—Mrs. Wilson S. Callender, residing for the summer on the Beach front, near St. Charles street, was the successful contestant in a New Orleans contest. Messrs. C. A. Hawk and Company offered as a prize a $175 living room set to the party who would write the best essay regarding the big store in Baronne street, and Mrs. Callender captured the honor, distinction and valuable prize. Mrs. Callender is quite a talented and observant writer and has put her ability really to the good. Congratulations are in honor to the successful contestant.

—Recently returning from an extensive trip through California and other parts of the West, Mr. George E. Pitcher expressed his admiration at the people of that locality in the extensive manner they have provided for education. He says, while he has traveled extensively, in no parts of the country as in California and other parts West have the people expended so enormously such sums of money for the education of the youth. Private schools, public schools and universities costing hundreds of thousands on every side meets the traveler. The satisfaction comes from the fact that the present generation has benefited and the future men and women are being brought up in a manner as to enable them to well take care of the future. This is a thought worthy of consideration. In the South we are lagging in the march of education, the very foundation of our future progress, and it is a great pity, says Mr. Pitcher, to see towns smaller than the average small town South boasting of schools commonly costing a half million dollars. The beautifying of our public streets and roadways, Mr. Pitcher says, much in that line could be done in Bay St. Louis after the California fashion. He refers to the beach road front, Second street and Dunbar avenue.

—The Bay Hotel, H. C. Babcock, manager, and H. W. Inscorpe, assistant manager, entertained an unusually large number of guests Sunday, when the working forces of the Herwig-Moss Insurance Company, of New Orleans, spent the day in Bay St. Louis. The party were 101 in number and on the occasion of the departure expressed how delightfully a day was spent and the hospitable manner in which they were taken care of by the management of the Bay Hotel. Mr. Marion Green, of Bay St. Louis, connected with the company, was chairman of the affair, and how well it was pulled off is due largely to his ability and willingness to work. Burt Sigerson's Band supplied the music at the hotel for the day.

—Chris A. Thompson, well known Biloxian, and a Hancock county boy, has been awarded the contract for the building of the pier and landing at the end of the pier to be used by the county ferry, Cecil N. Bean, for a cash consideration of $462.20, exclusive of the Boudin contract. The day following the giving of the contract Mr. Thompson had his pile driver machine on the spot and the great piles are being put in place. It is expected before the 20th the ferry will be landing at the new pier. Let us hope so, at least! Bay St. Louisians are most anxious for the new landing.

—County Agent O'Neal has been reapportioned for another term of year to serve Hancock county, at a salary of $200 per month. This is a wise move; in fact, an unquestioned one, to appoint a county agent, and it is wise to have retained the excellent and thorough services of Mr. O'Neal. We are expecting great things from Mr. O'Neal in the project of introducing and growing strawberries in Bay St. Louis this fall and winter. Already he has proven his worth to the county and his value cannot be overestimated, not even in dollars and cents.

—Mr. P. G. Gragnon and family, of Memphis, Tenn., reached here last night, en route to California, where they will permanently locate at El Centro, and are spending a few days here visiting Mrs. A. U. Gragnon and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lucas and family. They left Memphis in their auto Thursday morning at 7 o'clock, reaching Jackson Thursday evening; yesterday morning they resumed their trip from Jackson and were in time for the 6 o'clock ferry last evening. The family cat is traveling with the party and will make the trip to California, its future home.

—Our readers owning cattle will take notice that all cattle must be dipped every two weeks for one month, according to State law, and on the days and at the time as heretofore. This notice is authorized by Dr. Wm. Cain, county veterinarian. After these two dippings if cattle are found with no ticks dipping will take place only every 28 days. This is official, and owners of cattle will do well to take cognizance of same and govern themselves accordingly, thus avoiding the pain of penalty.

—Work on the Bay sea wall continues at an encouraging rate and the aspect is encouraging. This week Superintendent Gooch had the big pile driving engine moved to the north end of town—head of Dunbar avenue, where active operations will soon be started. As already stated in these columns, the work will continue to the end and including the Ballard property, after which the scene of operations will be shifted to the north end.

—The regatta on Saturday next, July 15th, promises big. Chairman Burns of the regatta committee reports an unusually large number of entries. The number of visitors will also excel previous attendance, and many will stay over Sunday for the day. The Bay-Waveland Club will be the scene of much activities. It is expected the hall for the dance Saturday night will be none too large. It is well for members to get their invitations for guests in advance.

THE SPIRIT OF '76.

Liberty Day—she has come an' she has went. Now we are all lookin' for the next one an' plannin' more firecrackers an' an' everythin'.

This one arrived in time to witness the usual celebratin', parades an' all—even a bit of oratin' by a guy whas anxious for the people to put him on the bench (not the baseball bench, bo). This wise gink spied all bout the constitution an' its bein' healthy just like his own. He orated all bout O' Glory an' how them stripes an' all was just an fitten, an' 'lowed that if we was goin' to vote a tall we had ought vote right, by Dodd, an' while we was doin' it we must vote for Dodd—by Dodd.

There being only one lonesome candidate in the ring we had to award him the decision, by Dodd. The Glorious Fourth wouldn't have been celebrated a tall if they didn't have no baseball, so them local soldier boys, whas them Howitzers, crossed bats an' tempers with them K-C's outen the N. O. burg. Them rifle toters resurrected Granpa Luc an' ornamented the slab with him as against that pea-shootin' speed demon Thomas whas curv'd 'em for them Caseys.

Well, Prunella, when O' Vet Luc started on that Come-Back wagon it looked like 'Fg de war' stuff—but only for a minute, babe; for the old man started makin' birthday presents to every guy whas edged up to the aforesaid plate with a hat, an' first base was what he was donatin' freely; then he got so big hearted that he gave the home plate to three guys, lock, stock an' barrel. When the first innin' had transpired, them Caseys had five runs on the 'credit side. Then the Commandin' General called Granpa in from the Listenin' Post an' give him a life furlough on the bench.

One guy, whas was sittin' next to us in the Press Box, remarks to the viz: "Bo, that old timer's shootin' at the wrong plate; when a guy gets his age the only Come-Back he can make is Meat-Balls cross the Dinner-Plate—it's the last prayer in the book for that guy."

Goodbye Luc, howdy do Angels.

When our warm friend "Old Sol" had got behind the Gran-stan, long bout 5 of the P. M., them stage hands got busy fixin' up the ring, paddin' up some soft spots for glass jaw artists to stretch out on an' take the count of 10.

The first bout was between two guys whas weighed in on the Fly order, an' named to the viz: Teet Hill, Charles Wogan were visitors from Waveland to Bay St. Louis a few days since and announced they had arranged an interview with the local representatives of the Delta Cement Construction Company, builders of the Bay St. Louis sea wall, with a view to having that firm perform similar work for Waveland. It is patent that Waveland can never progress; that the little town, beautiful as it is, lies prostrate in the sands, a victim of the tyranny of the unbounded and infuriated waters, and that some means of permanent protection must be hand and NOW. These gentlemen are leaders of the project, others co-operating, and it is hoped they will be successful in their quest—they can be none too early.

—Ex-Governor Theodore Bilbo is a prominent visitor to Bay St. Louis. He is here in an auto, accompanied with a party.

—Mrs. Marie Myevre, of New Orleans, came out from New Orleans today, accompanied by Miss Cora Lea Pearson, and will spend a few days, visiting at the home of Mrs. Stephens.

Look back over the past years and you will quickly see where you have been both careless and foolish in the way you spent your money. A good deal of this came from having the money in your POCKET. If that money had been in our Bank, you would probably still have it, and it would have grown to a nice round sum. Forget the past—today is here. Come in and start a Bank Account and by REGULARLY depositing your spare money, you will soon have money.
